Popular culture and the increasing pressure on women to look sexier have led to the recent surge in demand for cosmetic toe surgery. Women with a desire to slip into the latest designer heels as are Manolo Blahniks and Jimmy Choo's, are demanding their toes be shortened: the second toe for example, which is often longer than the big toe) or their pinky toe to be reshaped simply for the advantage of their feet comfortably filling into the narrowest of shoes.

Most orthopaedic surgeons will recommend foot surgery if a patient has medical reasons for doing so, such as hammertoe. Hammertoe is a claw-like, crooked toes that can be either a congenital condition or caused by wearing tight, pointy-toed shoes. The toe is contracted at the middle joint where tightened ligaments and tendons cause the toe to bend and curve upwards. Bunions are usually formed when the protruding part of the toe chafes against the shoe.

By now, we in the general public have become all too familiar with the term that refers to the growing phenomenon that is the hetero-efeminate male- more likely to be found strolling through the counters of Saks than in front of his television set during the playoffs, and whose knowledge of this season's Gucci line rivals that of even the most learned fashionistas. Yes, the now rather infamous term has since become the accepted coinage for the aesthetically and typically homosexual male who just happens to be straight.

But when exactly do the words of metrosexuality and its urban-dandy counterpart become blurred? Surely there are moments when the David Beckhams of the world find themselves in what might easily be considered a gray area, where the homosexual and metrosexual

OUTERWEAR: The Most Important Buy for the Season

One of the most important elements of your winter wardrobe is your coat. After all, this is where first impressions start. With fur trimmings and luxurious detailing, a lavishly detailed and richly treated coat is what you need this winter to neatly complete your look. Here are a few from some of our favorite designers to inspire you.

From Catwalk to Designer: Heidi Klum

by Christina Kelly

Proportionally gifted, rich, famous and an eye for design? Heidi Klum's exquisite new jewelry line offers irrefutable proof that supermodel-scale beauty and artistic talent can co-exist. We know, no fair. But sour grapes aside, us non-runway-ready girls can reap the benefits of Ms. Klum's foray into the wearable arts.

Klum teamed up with international jewelry house Mouawad to create the exclusive collection. The acclaimed jeweler has bedecked the bods of celebs like Kylie Minogue, Elizabeth Hurley and Britney Spears and also designed the infamous Victoria's Secret $12.5 million, precious stone-encrusted Fantasy Bra, which Klum donned in 2001 for the VS fashion show.

The Mouawad, Heidi Klum Collection features 35 central pieces- from delicate earrings to ornate diamond lariats-made from white and yellow

MERCEDES & SAKS

"Team Up for the Cause"

By Christine Kalley

Ah, Saks Fifth Avenue. Treasure trove for upscale goers from Chanel suits to needle-thin stilettos to ...roadsters? That's right, Mercedes-Benz has teamed up with the luxury department store to design an exclusive edition of the SLK350 roadster. In addition to de rigueur eye-worthy styling, the SLK350 features a 268 hp V6 engine that can bullet from zero to 60 in 5.4 seconds. Even more impressive: proceeds go to Kuy to the Cure, Saks' women's cancer initiative.

LUXURY BATHING

As if the proposition of taking a relaxing bath wasn't attractive enough, owners of the La Scala have even more of an incentive now thanks to a complete home theater system. Available in black or white, Jacuzzi's La Scala has redesigned the bathing experience with a 43-inch high definition flat screen television; a dvdplayer; a stereo system featuring a cd player, an in-room receiver, and surround sound; and a buoyant remote control. Somewhat lost in the luster of all the home theater accoutrements are that this whirlpool bath has 10 jets, 6 of which are fully adjustable and can seat up to 2 people comfortably. For the price of $32,149, the La Scala could be coming soon to a bathroom near you.

IMAC G5

The tremendous popularity of the iPod™ led Apple to entrust its creator to design the iMac G5, which began shipping to stores in mid-September. Already one of Apple's more popular brands, the new design is up to 15 pounds lighter than the previous Mac. Very similar in design to an iPod resting in its docking station, the new iMac G5 starts at $1299. It comes in a variety of options varying between an 80GB, 160GB, or 250GB hard drive to the widescreen LCD panel sizes of 17 or 20 inches. It seems as though deciding how much memory to opt for, considering the 256MB to 2GB range, would be a much harder choice than deciding whether or not to make the purchase!

NEW MOTOROLA SMARTPHONE

The new Motorola MPx220 smartphone comes equipped with all the bells and whistles most current cell phones feature-camera, video camera, speakerphone. The added benefit is the internet browser's support of both WAP and HTML, virtually making the entire internet at your disposal. As a cordband phone, it can be used wherever your travels may take you. The feature that certainly sets it apart from its competitors is its incorporation of Bluetooth & #61650 ; wireless technology, which allows for a wireless headset amongst other things. The MPx220 is available to Cingular Wireless customers.

FEMALE BOSS: FRIEND OR FOE

By Christina Kallery

Throughout your career, only a few bosses stand out as true mentors. These are the people whose advice you gratefully recall during a crisis or with whom you keep up a friendship long after you've moved on. Other bosses seem like they must have hatched, Invasion of the Body Snatchers-style, from identical pods in some underground corporate lair. You can transfer to a different office or even move across the country, but there they shall be all over again asking if you've routed those files yet. SLY presents five species of not-so-uncommon female bosses and how to handle them.

SLY is a lifestyle magazine focusing on shoes and accessories for fashion conscious women who lead a sophisticated and independent way of living. SLY targets women in the metropolitan area that pride themselves in standing out through excellence and style. As such, SLY reports on trends in career advancement and electronic development.

SLY fills the void in the media industry by representing women encompassing interest in all facets that not only include beauty and relationships but also career, gadgets, travel, and other lifestyle-defining interests. SLY is for the quintessential woman independent and charming. SLY bridges the gap between beauty and wit because the two are never separate when discussing the beauty of women. SLY women
